

Business Valuation

Abstract

This course is aimed at teaching students the practical skills necessary to value both existing business structures and start-ups, and various business projects in modern economic conditions using advanced techniques.

The main focus is made on building a DCF (Discounted Cash Flow) financial model with the use of MS Excel. The necessary theoretical concepts for justifying the use of certain models in the valuation are also considered.