

Discipline: Knowledge Management

Annotation

Labor intensity: 3 ECTS, 108 academic hours.

Final control form: exam

Objectives of the discipline "Knowledge Management":

- formation of students' holistic understanding of management theory knowledge, about the concept of knowledge of the organization, about the process of creating a new organizational knowledge and the formation of creative cognitive activity necessary for innovative development of the economy and society,
- acquaintance with the basic concepts and concepts of knowledge management theory in organizations,
- formation of understanding of the role of knowledge management in the management of modern enterprise and basic knowledge management processes and tools.

• familiarization with modern information technologies used in knowledge management.

To achieve the goals of the discipline in the framework of lectures and seminars provided:

- familiarization with basic concepts, fundamental approaches, system and methods of knowledge management in the organization;
- formation of skills in analyzing the activities of the organization from the point of view knowledge management, which implies education and development in future managers analytical and engineering approach to knowledge management, pursuit of search new forms of management organization based on the development and implementation of the system knowledge management.
- an overview of the main information platforms and management technology knowledge in organizations.
- formation of skills of creative and systematic implementation of theoretical and applied knowledge in the practical activities of the manager in the organization.