

Discipline: Organization Theory

Annotation

Labor intensity: 6 ECTS, 216 academic hours.

Final control form: exam

This course is a systematic presentation of the scientific foundation's organization theory. It reveals the content of the main categories of the theory organization, outlines the process of its evolution, reveals the essence of the organization as process and as a phenomenon, the main approaches to its classification. The course also covers the essence and forms of organizational relations, organizational design, is stated classification and evolution of organizational structures and current trends development of organizations, their properties and forms in the XXI century.

Communication with other disciplines. Organization theory along with such disciplines as organizational behavior, management fundamentals, strategic management, social psychology, research of control systems allows you to reveal and analyze the foundations of the construction and activity of organizations of any spheres and forms entrepreneurial activity, taking into account the specifics of a specific historical period of time.

Requirements for the initial levels of knowledge and skills of students for passing discipline. When studying the discipline, it is assumed that the student has a common understanding of the essence and content of management, general systems theory, analytical thinking and creativity in dealing with complex management and organizational tasks and problems.